Inspired by the Hindu mythological belief that the universe emerged from a cosmic egg, these exquisite creations celebrate the rarity and regal allure of purple sapphires. Purple, a color synonymous with royalty, power, and luxury, was cherished by ancient monarchs due to its scarcity. Each of these sapphire eggs, adorned with diamonds, is a striking embodiment of nature's bold portrayal, a testament to the unique design and artistry that Arunashi brings to life. Revel in the majestic beauty of these eggs, where the extraordinary meets the divine.

Fun Fact: There are no red Sapphires. None. Even though Sapphire comes in every color of the rainbow; yellows, orange, pinks, green... there is no red. That's because red corundum (what Sapphire is made from) is actually called Ruby.
