Behold the enchanting tale of creation woven into our White Sapphire, Spinel & Diamond Earrings. Inspired by the ancient Hindu myth of the universe's birth from a cosmic egg, these earrings are a testament to Arun's artistry & imagination. Crafted in 18K blackened Gold, Burmese Spinel and organically shaped White Sapphire converge, creating a harmonious dance of celestial elements. As delicate Diamonds adorn this masterpiece, you'll find that these earrings are surprisingly light despite their grandeur, promising to uplift your spirits whenever you wear them. Step into a world where mythology meets original design, and let these earrings transport you to the genesis of the universe, one elegant curve at a time.

Fun Fact: Before the scientific technology of today, deep red spinel's and rubies were often almost indistinguishable. Two of the most famous spinel's in the world are the Black Prince's Ruby and the Timur Ruby, both part of the British crown jewels. The Timur Ruby is actually a 361-carat polished red spinel. The Black Prince's Ruby is the largest uncut spinel in the world, and once decorated King Henry V's helmet during battle.
